

PROGRESSIVES TO BACK GOVERNOR COX

Important Organization Claims Inability to Stand for Harding's Policy

Columbus, O., Oct. 16.—As Progressives of Ohio and supporters of Theodore Roosevelt, the members of the Progressive State Executive Committee of Ohio have decided to support Gov. Cox for president. The announcement was made by A. A. Andridge, of Cincinnati, as chairman. Senator Harding is denounced in the statement to the effect that he "has demonstrated that he is not a leader of men but rather a subservient follower of leaders like Penrose, Lodge and Smoot." It is stated that he always has opposed progressive movements and... referred to the amendments of 1912 as "the revolution in Ohio."

MARSHAL STIMSON TO VOTE FOR COX

(By Associated Press) Chicago, Oct. 16.—Democratic National Committee headquarters today made public a statement that Marshall Stimson, of Los Angeles, is announcing he will vote for Gov. Cox for president. Stimson was campaign manager for Senator Johnson, in Southern California. In 1910 he was a delegate to the republican national convention; in 1912 he was a member of the California republican state committee. He said he could not support Senator Harding's stand on the League of Nations, adding he would vote for Gov. Cox who had wisdom enough to take the side of right and courage enough to express his views positively.

MASON TRIPLETS CREATE COURT STIR

When the name of Robert Mason was called to give testimony in a case in the circuit court on Friday morning, little attention was paid. However, when the name of Rankin Mason was called and there was a "dead image" of the retiring witness presenting himself, there was some interest shown by the liberal number present. This was nothing to the degree of interest, when the name of Alexander Mason was called, and another "duplicate" was presented. They young men are not only brothers, but are triplets, and their presence in the court room created considerable attention. The Mason brothers, sons of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Mason, residing south of the city in the Kavanaugh neighborhood, are apparently 30 years old, and, according to the saying, "alike as three peas." They are testifying in a case whereby they hope to establish the official line for division of property recently purchased. When seated side by side, there is such a resemblance that when one's name is called either could respond without being definitely recognized, except by one very familiar with them. Two of them served in the navy during the war, the third being left according to the board.

NATIVE OF MADISON DIES IN MISSOURI

Relatives in Madison have received news of the death at Excelsor Springs, Mo., of Robert Caldwell, who passed away at the advanced age of 90 years. Mr. Caldwell was a native of Madison county, but had been making his home in Missouri almost since the Civil war. He was raised in the Pond church section of this county. His widow was Miss Millie Cobb, also of this county, a sister of Mrs. Rhoda Embry and Col. Jesse Cobb. The deceased was the grandson of the Caldwell who donated the site of Caldwell High school to the city of Richmond. One son survives, Jesse Cobb Caldwell, who is the dean of Drake University at Des Moines, Iowa.

Declaring that intoxication is more prevalent than in former years, the New Jersey medical society is asking that light wines be provided and that rifles and explosives found in a Kingston prison were found in time to thwart a prison plot. Many were killed during a strike in Italy which lasted but a few hours. The strike was precipitated at several places at a given time. Great Britain is facing a serious crisis, it is said, as a result of a general strike of miners. It develops that many of the Haitians who were executed by United States marines were executed at the order of native authorities who were found to be insane. Fifteen thousand bales of American cotton will be sent to three foreign markets to test the price paid for the product. President Wilson has commuted the death sentence passed upon a negro in Washington to life imprisonment. She was to have been hanged Friday. Ohio's wheat supply is said to be 8,000,000 bushels less than last year. Five whiskey runners have been arrested at Dayton, Ohio, it being charged they have been doing wholesale business in liquor as well. The strike of street railway men at Springfield, Ohio, which tied up the lines, has been adjusted and the cars are running again. Cincinnati is preparing for a fall festival that promises to be elaborate in the extreme. Police in Louisville are seizing large quantities of ginger ale, said to be in the possession of negroes, who are said to mix it with "something else" and sell it for a high price. The store of J. C. Powers at Walton was robbed of money and merchandise, the thieves entering by the means of a skeleton key.

OVER A MILLION TO BE SPENT ON KY. HIGHWAYS (By Associated Press) Louisville, Ky., Oct. 16.—The Post in a Washington special today, said Secretary Merideth, of the Department of Agriculture, had authorized Federal Aid to the extent of $800,000 for road building in Kentucky. Inasmuch as the state must match dollar for dollar, the Post said this means an expenditure of $1,600,000 on Kentucky roads.

TARVIA ARRIVES; WORK IS STARTED

City Streets to Receive First Attention—County Work Also to be Started Soon

Friday night a crew of men and a car load of material for the streets to receive tarvia, arrived in Richmond, and the work will be started Monday morning, under the direction of Councilman John Allman. The work of the city will be finished, it is expected, before that of the county is taken up, owing to the fact that the material is here and the desire of the citizens of Richmond to have the improvement as soon as possible. The tarvia will be placed on East Main street, connecting with the end of the street paving and with the railway crossing improvement, will render this entrance to the city one of the best. It will stop the necessity of filling holes with stones during the winter, an expensive and arduous task. The work will be taken up at the end of the paving on Lancaster avenue and extend to the limits of the city, according to present plans. There will also be tarvia placed on lower Walnut street, the citizens there having petitioned City Councilman Charles Terrill some time ago and were assured that they would get the improvement. This street has been greatly beautified during the present summer through the residents taking civic pride, their pocketbooks and paint brushes, and proceeding with a complete transformation in the way of improvement work. The county work will be taken up later, and with the arrival of the rest of the material, will not interfere with the work of the city, since the men employed by the county will have charge of most of the work of placing the tarvia on the county roads. The Irvine road is one that will receive the first attention. There are a number of other county highways to be treated. The big force of men employed in the county to the north have completed their work and Madison county will now be given attention with the result that the work will be finished, it is believed, within a short time. County Engineer J. G. Baxter is preparing to start the work as soon as possible, and will pull a number of men from their present work and place them in charge of the work of applying the new highway dressing.

STRIKE OF 1,000,000 SEEMS INEVITABLE

(By Associated Press) London, Oct. 16.—Premier Lloyd George today addressed a message to the nation, asserting the government had done everything possible to avert the strike effective tonight of 1,000,000 miners, but the miners, rejecting all offers, are now trying to gain their end by force. The nation, it is declared, will resist such an attack with all its strength. The men demand increased wages. It is feared the railroad transport workers will join the strike.

COX SPEAKS IN HARDING'S TOWN

Marion, O., Oct. 16.—A rousing reception was given Governor Cox, democratic presidential candidate, at Marion, the home of Senator Harding, his republican opponent. Several thousand persons cheered and applauded the Governor. The Senator was out of town on his southern trip.

The big crowd heard the Governor from a temporary platform near the railroad station, several blocks from the front porch which the Governor has ridiculed for several weeks. Thousands packed around the stand and hundreds were perched on freight cars and housetops. Automobiles were parked thickly for blocks in every direction. Arriving at 11 o'clock, an hour late two brass bands escorted the Governor to the platform near by, to which he walked amid handshaking crowds and had literally to fight his way through the cheering crowds. There were a few cries of "Hurrah for Harding."

Opening his address, the Governor told how he had gone through the country touching elbows with the people, learning their problems and permitting them to ask questions. Seeing railroad men in working clothes in the crowd the Governor paid a tribute to the "boys in overalls" and said: "We have fought together the forces of reaction," declaring that the "same forces of reaction and big business were arrayed against him."

"They want the rule of the bayonet and not the Golden Rule," said the Governor, reiterating that he had never "thrown a uniform of a soldier into an Ohio strike." The Governor's League arguments were loudly applauded, he repeated his charge against the "Senatorial oligarchy" and other arguments for the League, including that of a "conspiracy of silence."

He declared that the League covenant could not be obtained at any republican headquarters in the country. Like his custom with other audiences the Governor invited questions.

"No man in any meeting is going to be locked up for asking me questions," said the Governor, and the crowd gave a loud cheer.

More cheers greeted a remark where some of the crowd objected to interruptions of the questions, and the Governor said:

"Let him alone; I don't care whether democrats or republicans ask questions. I'm not making this fight as a democrat, but as an American."

One of the first questions was about the inequality of League voting power between the United States and Great Britain, and the Governor gave his explanation that Hitchcock's reservations have met the situation.

The Governor's views on the Irish question were given and cheered. The Governor spoke about half an hour and made no personal reference to his opponent. In closing he restated his position for the League with any good reservation. He again asked "some new faces in the Senate" and urged the election of the democratic candidate for Senator and also for Congress in this district.

FEW MORE FINED IN POLICE COURT

Just as he was calling the regular Friday night session of city police court to order, Judge Murray Smith received a telephone call to which he responded with the result that he went directly home, owing to illness in his family, and the adjourned meeting resumed Saturday morning. There was a miscellaneous bunch confronting him, one man being fined for intoxication as a result of having imbibed too freely in patent medicine. Another for alleged gambling, and some youngsters were reprimanded for shooting craps. The lads were frightened, it evidently being their first offense, a fact not overlooked by Judge Smith, in his usual considerate way, extended some good advice which, to all appearances, will be heeded in the future. The slate had been cleaned until the middle of the week when the misdemeanors were reported.

MODEL HIGH WINS FROM WINCHESTER

Coach Embree's Eleven Takes Snappy Games Here Friday Afternoon by 26 to 0

The Model High school eleven, playing its first game of the season, piled up a score of 26 points to 0 for the Winchester High school team on the Normal school field Friday afternoon. The two teams were about evenly matched in weight and from the first kick off showed real fighting spirit, but the excellent playing of Captain Bill Crutcher and his men proved too much for the Winchester team and no time during the game was the home goal in any immediate danger. The players of each team showed the true qualities of real sportsmanship had been inculcated in the team from the beginning of the season.

Coach Embree has material out of which a high school team of the finest caliber will be made and for the past week or so has been giving them some real work-outs. From the game Friday it seems that about the most promising player is Bill Crutcher, captain of the Model team, who gained the admiration of the men on both teams as well as that of the spectators by his steady line plunging and broken field running. On forward passes and end runs, however, the line came up with its part by always being able to hold the visitors. Blanton, quarterback of the home team, used his head to good advantage in the running of the team, and under his direction the ball was kept in the opponents' end of the field at all times. Adams, who was playing in the back field after one day's practice in that position, made several good gains. Kit Crutcher, brother of the captain, is showing up as a sure tackler and, although only a young chap, seems to be producing the goods as a defensive player.

There was a splendid crowd out for the game. The Model High team will have another game within the next week, and Coach Embree is making preparations to whip the youngsters into even better fighting shape. He is handicapped to a large extent in that there are not enough fellows out for either the Normal team or the High school eleven to insure a scrimmage during the daily practice, but regardless of this inconvenience he is doing some admirable work with the fellows on both teams, as is evidenced in the winning of the two games from Paint Lick by the Normal team and the outcome of Friday's game.

The lineup of Friday's game was as follows:

Model	Position	Winchester
William Blanton	Quarter	Byrd
Ballard Luxon	R. T.	R. T.
Coleman Covington	R. E.	May
Clarence Salyer	R. G.	Talbot
Leslie Evans	J. L. G.	Wason
James Allen	L. T.	Haney
Henry Arnold	L. E.	Talbot
Leslie Evans	J. L. G.	Wason
William Crutcher	F. B.	Wells
Thomas Adams	R. H.	Nelson
Kit Crutcher	L. H.	Strother
Model Subs.—James Carr	In the last half for Ballard Luxon.
Winchester Subs.—Alexander for May.	Arnold for Talbot.
Officials.—Referee, Carter, Virginia; umpire, Hendricks, Kentucky; linesman, McKinney, Millersburg; timekeeper, Deniston, Valparaiso.

NEW BURGLAR ALARM IS VERY "TOUCHY" AFFAIR

The new burglar alarm at the Madison National Bank has been installed properly and is said to be one of the most complete and "touchy" in existence. When the big vault doors are now closed for the day, there is absolutely nothing doing in the way of manipulation, since there is a most intricate electric wire system, that is susceptible to the least touch, and the big gong in the front of the building will sound and alarm, regardless of the time of day or night. The apparatus is so arranged that the wire connection cannot be cut, hence the complete safety of the vault and immediate vicinity from molestation in any way. It is the only one of the kind in this part of the country. It is understood a number of banks in other cities are preparing to install similar devices.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wagers and Mr. and Mrs. John F. Wagers, of Cincinnati, were here for a week-end visit to Mr. and Mrs. W. Miller at Waco. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Miller accompanied them for a few days' stay in the Queen City.

Mrs. Sallie Rauburn, of Henderson, N. C., Mrs. William Simmons, of Centuria, Mo., and Mrs. Bettie Harber, of this city, were dinner guests of Mrs. Collins Yates, Friday.

SECOND Y. M. C. A. VOCATION MEETING

The second of a series of meetings at Eastern Normal for the purpose of assisting young men to choose vocations, was held Friday night at the institution, Prof. C. D. Lewis delivering a most interesting talk on Y. M. C. A. work generally, which organization is at the head of the movement. The instructive discourse was enjoyed by a large number. The various phases of the work was outlined, and some interesting facts concerning its origin and maintenance, together with the work required to maintain its standard were presented. Prof. Lewis is a most interesting speaker, and the manner in which he presented the information appealed to all who heard him.

Thomas Baldwin, on "Successful Farming," will be the speaker next Friday night. This will appeal to many of the young men from the rural districts, who are coming in for their share of recognition this year at the school. They will be treated to both early and modern manners in which successful farming is maintained, the progressiveness of the country in general due to the late methods of expediting work on the farm, together with the manner of selecting seed, and other matters pertaining to the essential points in agriculture.

BURGLAR CUTS WINDOW SCREEN

Shortly before 2 o'clock Friday morning, Mrs. George McCoy, residing at 338 North Fifth street, was awakened by an unusual noise. She heard the noise at a rear window and getting up, peered through the glass. She saw the form of a man, busily engaged in cutting the screen. She aroused her husband, who turned on a light, procured a revolver and sallied forth. He reached a rear door just in time to see the man run through the yard at the rear of the home and scale a back fence. Mr. McCoy stated he could not recognize the man, who lost no time in getting away, apparently frightened when the light was turned on. An investigation showed most of the screen cut from one of the windows and another had been tampered with. This is the first time burglars have been reported for some time in the city.

Prisoner Lynched. The Claim Dismissed

Elizaville, Ky., Oct. 16.—G. W. Powell, deputy sheriff of Fleming county, has received a letter from Governor Morrow dismissing the claim made for expenses by Sheriff Smith in connection with the effort to bring back Grant Smith, colored from Michigan, for trial in Fleming county for an alleged assault on a white girl 14 years old. Smith was taken from Sheriff Powell and Chief of Police Link, of Paris, upon their arrival in Paris with the view of keeping Smith in the Bourbon county jail until he could be more safely sent to Fleming county for his trial. Smith was lynched by a mob. Governor Morrow in his letter says Powell failed to use proper force to defend the prisoner, and for that reason he has dismissed the claim. Sheriff Powell recites the fact that he and Chief Link were surrounded by a mob with a dozen or more guns leveled at them, and that resistance to the mob would have been useless.

DOVE SEASON CLOSES

The dove season, one of the most successful in years, has closed. Dr. O. F. Hume and a party of friends were in the country Friday afternoon, the final day for hunting them, and reported the birds as being numerous. They were about as numerous after the party returned to the city. So much for their marksmanship.

COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION

Some Members of Present Organization Have Filed Petitions Under New Law

While the new election law pertaining to procuring county school boards will occur next month, and will be observed in Madison county, it is the general belief that there will be few, if any, changes in the personnel of the Madison county board. Since this is the first experience along this line in this county, considerable interest is manifest.

Candidates for office have until Monday evening to file their petitions. It is known there have been a number of well known residents who have aspired to the position as member of the board who have filed their petitions. It is a fact, also, that a number of the members of the present board have their petitions in for the first election. It is not known whether all the members of the present board will desire to stay. All have, as a matter of fact, not filed election petitions. Some of them have been serving faithfully for a number of years and have gained extensive knowledge of the manner of conducting the business connected with the schools of the county.

Parents of children in some instances also assert they have candidates whom they will urge to race for the positions. This, however, is highly speculative as to results. The office of board member entails much work, time and consideration. Knowledge of school progress as well as the management increases the value of the member, as well the interests of the county. Members of the present board recently inaugurated a system of regular meetings. These are just beginning. Heretofore the board would be subject to a called meeting at most any time. Some are said to have devoted much time to the interests of the schools.

MADISON HOUNDS READY FOR THE FRAY

If that big silver cup, prize for the derby winner at the Central Kentucky Fox Hunters' Association, is won by an outsider, he had better get busy, since there will be more than two surprised men if the cup is not retained this year again by a Madison county man. The cup, which is on exhibition at the office of County Clerk Jennings W. Maupin, has strayed from the county but for one year. There are two years to the credit of Alex. Parrish, who won it in 1916 and 1919; one year to Maupin Brothers, of this city, and one year, by L. R. Shouse, of Lexington.

Maupin Brothers are firmly of the belief that the cup will remain here and that the next engraving, that for this year, will be something like the following: "Won by Maupin Bros., in 1920."

It requires three years winning to retain the cup permanently. Messrs. Maupin believe they will win it this and next year.
